3. Change to purpose, etc.

We will only use Personal Data for the purposes for which we collected it, unless we reasonably consider that we need to use it for another purpose and such purpose is compatible with the original purpose.

If we need to use Personal Data for a purpose apparently irrelevant to the original purpose, we will try to obtain Data Subject's consent by notifying applicable legal basis.

Notwithstanding the above, we may process Personal Data, without Data Subject's knowledge or consent, if to do so is required or permitted by relevant laws and/or regulations.

E) Disclosure of Personal Data

We may disclose Personal Data to the following third parties, subject to availability of safety measure for protection of Personal Data and compliance with the relevant laws and regulations by such third parties:

- “Internal Third Parties”
- “External Third Parties”
- “Third parties, to whom we may choose to sell and transfer out business (or vice versa) or with whom merge”

When we ask External Third Parties to process Personal Data on our behalf, we will not allow them to use Personal Data for their own purposes. We will permit them to process Personal Data only within the scope of our instructions and applicable relevant laws and regulations.

New owner of our business will be able to process (including use) relevant Personal Data to the same extent permitted by this policy.

For the purposes of interpretation of this part:

“Internal Third Parties” shall include the Company’s shareholder, Toyota Tsusho Corporation, and the Company’s subsidiaries and affiliates in Japan and/or other countries in which the Company holds majority of its shares or interests.

“External Third Parties” shall include the following third parties:

- (a) service providers of Internal Third Parties in Japan and/or any other relevant countries (acting as their commissioned processors or joint controllers, etc. of Personal Data);
- (b) professional advisers of Internal Third Parties in Japan and/or any other relevant countries (acting as their lawyers, accountants, auditors, financiers, insurers based and consultants, etc.; and
- (c) any regulator and/or authority of personal data/ information/ privacy protection in Japan and/or any other relevant countries, which has authority to require reporting of processing activities, etc. in certain circumstances.

F) Transfer of Personal Data from EEA to Non-EEA

Disclosure of Personal Data mentioned in E) (Disclosure of Personal Data) above may include transfer of Personal Data from EEA to Non-EEA.

We transfer Personal Data from EEA to Non-EEA only if at least one of the following applies:

- (a) transfer of Personal Data from EEA to a Non-EEA country where the European Commission confirms an adequate level of protection for Personal Data;
- (b) transfer of Personal Data from EEA to a Non-EEA party to a data transfer (or, if appropriate, of processing) agreement with us, which includes standard contractual clauses designated by the European Commission (to give the same effect of protection as that of EEA); or
- (c) at least one of the derogations set out in Article 49 (Derogations for specific situations) -1) of GDPR applies.

G) Data security

We limit access to Personal Data only to employees, agents, contractors and other persons who have a business need to know Personal Data of the Company and third parties mentioned in E) (Disclosure of Personal Data) above. They will be allowed to process Personal Data only within the scope of our instructions and be subject to a duty of confidentiality.

H) Retention period of Personal Data

We will retain Personal Data only to the reasonable extent necessary to achieve the purposes for collection of the same, e.g. for satisfaction of any legal, tax, accounting or other requirements.

We may retain Personal Data for a longer period in the event of complaint by Data Subject, or, if we reasonably believe, there is a prospect of litigation with Data Subject.

To determine the appropriate retention period of Personal Data, we will consider the amount, nature and sensitivity of the Personal Data; the potential risk of harm from unauthorised use or disclosure of Personal Data; purposes for processing Personal Data; prospect of achieving such purposes through other means, as well as the applicable legal, tax, accounting or other requirements.

I) Legal rights of Data Subject

1. Legal rights

Under certain circumstances, in relation to his/her Personal Data, Data Subject may have the following rights:

- (a) to request access to Personal Data: (This enables relevant Data Subject to receive a copy of his/her Personal Data held by us and to check the status of lawful processing of such Personal Data.)
- (b) to request correction of Personal Data: (This enables relevant Data Subject to correct incomplete or inaccurate relevant Personal Data, though we may need to verify the accuracy of new data provided to us.)
- (c) to request deletion of Personal Data: (This enables relevant Data Subject to ask us to delete relevant Personal Data if there is no good reason for us continuing to process it. However, we may not always be able to comply with Data Subject's request to delete his/her Personal Data for specific legal reasons.)
- (d) to object to inappropriate processing of Personal Data: (This enables relevant Data Subject to have an opportunity to check whether processing of relevant Personal Data is appropriate.)
- (e) to request restriction on processing of Personal Data: (This enables relevant Data Subject to ask us to suspend the processing of his/her Personal Data in the following scenarios:
 - (i) if relevant Data Subject wants to confirm the accuracy of his/her Personal Data.
 - (ii) if relevant Data Subject wants to confirm the legal grounds for lawful processing of his/her Personal Data.)
- (f) to request the transfer of Personal Data to relevant Data Subject (or to a third party designated by him/her):
- (g) to withdraw consent by Data Subject to process Personal Data: (This will not affect the lawfulness of any processing carried out before such withdrawal. If Data Subject withdraws his/her consent, we may not be able to provide certain products or services to him/her. We will advise him/her if this is the case at the time of such withdrawal by Data Subject.)

Data Subject has the right to make a complaint to relevant supervisory authority in charge of data protection issues having competent jurisdiction. However, we would appreciate if Data Subject could give us chance to deal with Data Subject's concerns in the first instance before Data Subject approaching such supervisory authority.

2. Cost, etc.

Basically, Data Subject does not have to pay any cost for exercising any of said rights.

However, we may ask Data Subject to bear reasonable cost if his/her request is clearly unfounded, repetitive or excessive. Alternatively, we may refuse to respond to Data Subject's request in these circumstances.

3. Provision of additional information

We may need to request specific information from Data Subject to help us confirm his/her identity and secure Data Subject's rights. This is a security measure to ensure that Personal Data will not be disclosed to any person who has no right to receive it.

We may also Data Subject to ask for further information in relation to his/her specific request to speed up our response.

4. Updates to this policy

This policy may be updated from time to time. You can find the latest version on our website.
